

THE HISTORY OF HUNGARY

Hungary is a country in Central Europe. With about 10 million inhabitants, Hungary is a medium sized member state of the European Union. The official language is Hungarian – which is the most widely spoken Uralic language in the world.

Hungary's capital and largest city is Budapest; other major urban areas include: Debrecen, Szeged, Miskolc, Pécs and Győr.

Hungary is considered a developed country and ranks 40th on the Human Development Index. Hungarians enjoy universal health care and tuition free Secondary education.

HIGHER EDUCATION

There are 67 higher education institutions in Hungary ranging from small colleges to top research universities. Bachelor's degrees usually last 3 years, Masters 2 years, however, there are some exceptions; medicine, pharmacy, dental and veterinary studies, architecture and law – which go for 5 to 6 years.

The established universities in Hungary include some of the oldest in the world. Higher education in Hungary dates back to 1367 when Louis the Great, founded the first Hungarian University in the city of Pécs.

Preparatory Courses

Students interested in continuing their studies in Hungary will find preparatory courses in numerous universities from Debrecen to Budapest, from Budapest to Szeged, from Szeged to Pécs.

With Hungary ranked as one of the world's most popular destinations for academic tourism – Education Hungary connects you with some of the world's top tier research universities with cutting edge facilities and renown for almost 100% undergraduate success rate.

Foreign Students

Hungary attracts foreign students from both E.U and non-E.U countries. Three quarters of the students arriving in Hungary arrive from just 10 countries, while one quarter of the students arrive from 100 countries.

Increasing figures of students studying in Hungary is attributed to;

1. Hungary offers affordable tuition fees and living costs within the European Union and Schengen area.
2. A number of Nobel Prize winners and scientific inventors were educated here.
3. There are easier admission procedures and fewer documents are needed for obtaining admission.
4. Hungary offers different types of scholarships to foreigners.
5. The cost of student accommodation in Hungary is lower than in most Western European countries and Schengen member states
6. Residence permits issued in Hungary to foreign students allow them to travel to other Schengen countries without further visa.
7. A number of low cost flights connect Hungarian cities to other countries and popular travel destinations.
8. There are employment opportunities in the European Union during education years and after graduation.

Personal development: Being in a new environment with cultural diversity gives you the opportunity for personal growth in terms of personality, independence and appreciation of people from varied backgrounds.

Vibrant campus and student life: The Universities have so much to offer beyond the curriculum. There are numerous college events, societies, cultural, intellectual, festivals, sporting and recreational activities that you can indulge in.

Career prospects: There are employment opportunities in the European Union during education years and after graduation.

OUR SERVICES

1. Career guidance before the application process

We offer career counseling to our prospective students after we have listened and understood what their specific needs are.

2. Advisory and counseling on the study programs to prospective students and their families

We offer systematic guidance for the students to make the best choices in the study programs they wish to undertake; after assessing their qualifications.

3. Guidance on the steps of application and interviews

We assist students through the application process, including interviews.

4. Assistance with Visa processes

The close partnership that we have with the Hungarian Embassy in Nairobi ensures that the visa process runs smoothly for the students and also their families who may wish to obtain visiting visas to either travel with the students or visit them during the course of their studies.

5. Assistance with accommodation options

We offer guidance on the accommodation options available to students in Hungary.

6. Pre-departure briefings

We offer pre-departure briefings to all students and their families to provide them with all the relevant information on Hungary and what to expect, on and off campus; as they transition to being international students.

7. Post-departure support

After the students have departed for Hungary, we keep in touch to find out how they are faring on, including any challenges they may encounter; so we can offer further support, if need be.
